NEWARK, OHIO, WEDNESDAY EVENING, AUGUST 27, 1919

PRESIDENT WILL BEGIN HIS TOUR WITHIN 2 WEEKS

Probably Will Speak At Columbus But Will Pass Up Chicago.

MAY REVIEW PACIFIC FLEET AT SAN FRANCISCO SEPT. 15

Wants To Greet General Pershing On His Arrival Next Week.

Washington, Aug. 27.—President Wilson will begin his trip to the Pacific coast just as soon as details can be arranged, probably within ten days or two weeks.

Secretary Tumulty made this definite announcement today, adding that the president felt he should make the trip. It is regarded as likely that the president will reach the Pacific coast in time to review the Pacific fleet at San Francisco September 15.

Secretary Tumulty said the tour would occupy about 25 days. "If the president can stand it," and the itinerary is expected to be completed within 24 hours. The president's purpose not to include Chicago has not been changed; it was said, but he may speak at Columbus and Cincinnati and also at St. Louis.

The president was represented as regarding it more pressing than ever that he should make the trip and it was explained that he would not necessarily wait for the peace conference to be reported to the senate by the foreign relations committee.

While the president wishes to start on his tour very soon, there are various elements that must be considered, including the necessary arrangement for his reception in the cities to be visited and his desire to greet General Pershing when he arrives in New York next week.

Secretary Tumulty said the president felt that the speech making tour was of greater importance and that possibly he would greet General Pershing somewhere in the west, probably at St. Louis as the general plans to go to his old home in Missouri soon after returning from overseas.

While the itinerary still is incomplete, it was regarded today as almost certain that the president would speak at Sioux City, Iowa; Minneapolis or St. Paul, Minn., and Bismarck, N. D.

MAYOR GETS CAR OF VEGETABLES

Two Thousand Cases of Canned Baked Beans, Tomatoes, Corn and Peas Will Arrive Monday.

Mayor H. A. Atherton has secured a car load of canned vegetables from the U. S. army supply depot at Columbus and the car will be loaded Friday of this week and should arrive some time Monday and will be placed on sale Tuesday in the various fire stations over the city.

The shipment will include 500 cases of baked beans in two sizes which will retail at six cents for pound cans and eleven for two pounds.

There will be 500 cases of tomatoes in two sizes cans, one retailing at 11 cents and the other a little larger, at 13 cents.

There will be 500 cases of canned corn and 500 cases of peas which will retail at 11 cents per can.

Each case of the goods contains two dozen cans except the beans and it has 48. The vegetables are the select goods of Hines, Van Camp, Crickshaw and other noted canning companies and are said to be in splendid shape. The city of Columbus had asked for 56 cars of these vegetables but was apportioned just what it was entitled to with other Ohio cities.

Mayor Atherton stated today that this is an opportunity to lay in a supply of canned vegetables at a very moderate price and that in all probability it will be the last that can be secured and he advises Newarkites to take advantage of the sale as the demand will be such that it will last but a short time.

There will be no regular sale conducted at either of the local markets as it can be better handled from the fire departments.

TAKEN SUDDENLY ILL DIES FEW HOURS LATER

While attending a meeting of the aid society at the Baptist church Tuesday afternoon, 4 o'clock, Miss Delphine E. O'Bannon became suddenly ill and was removed to her home 16 North 5th St. in the Bradys' ambulance where Dr. Carl Evans attended her. Her condition gradually became worse and death came near nine o'clock Tuesday evening, long due to appear. Miss O'Bannon was a member of the Baptist church and is survived by her father William O'Bannon and three sisters, Misses Frances and Genevieve of the home; Mrs. H. C. Bell of Utica and a brother Edwrd O'Bannon of Newark.

Funeral arrangements have not been made.

The case is set for September 3, at 10 o'clock.

NO NEW CHANGES ARE MADE TODAY IN PEACE TREATY

Senate Committee Marks Time While List of Changes is Drawn.

SENATOR FALL ASKS ENTIRE LABOR SECTION ELIMINATED

Tells Members He Proposes To Speak at Length on Subject.

Washington, Aug. 27.—No program was made by the senate foreign relations committee today in its consideration of the peace treaty, none of the members having amendments ready to be presented for action.

Senator Fall, Republican, New Mexico, moved to strike out the entire labor section providing for an international labor organization, but said he was not ready for a vote at the time he desired to discuss the motion at length.

Further action on the amendment agreed to yesterday to eliminate American representation on international commission also was impossible because a complete list of the changes it will make necessary in the text had not been completed.

The Shantung amendment to the peace treaty, under debate most of yesterday's session in the senate, came in for further discussion today.

Senator Fall of New Mexico, a Republican member of the committee, announced he would reply during the day to the speech made yesterday by Senator McCumber, Republican, North Dakota, attacking the committee's action regarding Shantung.

The first task before the committee was to perfect its action of yesterday in agreeing to a blanket amendment eliminating reference to American representation on various international commission set up under the treaty.

Lieut. Gov. Pugsley holding umbrella over Prince of Wales.

The much sought honor of holding an umbrella over the kingly head of his Royal Highness, the Prince of Wales, fell to Lieut. Gov. Pugsley of New Brunswick during the former's stay in St. John's. In Britain it is considered beneath the dignity of a prince of the royal blood to hold his own umbrella.

The president was represented as regarding it more pressing than ever that he should make the trip and it was explained that he would not necessarily wait for the peace conference to be reported to the senate by the foreign relations committee.

While the president wishes to start on his tour very soon, there are various elements that must be considered, including the necessary arrangement for his reception in the cities to be visited and his desire to greet General Pershing when he arrives in New York next week.

New York, Aug. 27.—Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the board of the United States Steel Corporation, made public today a communication sent by him to a committee of the American Federation of Labor which is organizing workers in the iron and steel industry asserting that his corporation would decline to discuss business relations with trade unions as such.

VOCATIONAL BOARD DENIES CHARGES

Washington, Aug. 27.—The federal board for vocational education through its director, Dr. Chas A. Prosser, has addressed a letter to members of congress denying charges recently made by the association of disabled soldiers, sailors and marines of inefficiency in the board's administration.

Replying to the association's charge that hundreds of men have been compelled to depend upon the charity of friends for months after applying for vocational training because of the board's delay in arranging for payment of compensation, Dr. Prosser declared that the board had not the authority to make such payments or place the men in training until compensation for disability is awarded by the bureau of war risk insurance. This provision of the rehabilitation act he said had given rise to much misunderstanding.

EXPECT TWENTY PLANES AT ROOSEVELT FIELD

Minneapolis, N. Y., Aug. 27.—More than 20 airplanes participating in the international aerial derby were expected to arrive at Roosevelt field today from Toronto and several men entrants including Colonel William Thaw, who gained fame as commander of the Lafayette Escadrille were preparing to start on the first lap of the race.

With improved flying weather the pilots were hopeful of bettering the marks made yesterday by three aviators who succeeded in making the round trip between Minneapolis and the Canadian city.

The injured are Albert Johnson, driver and owner of the machine; Miss Adeline Davis and Lester Pratt, all of Columbus. According to officials Johnson said the party had been drinking. The machine went into a ditch while being driven at a high rate of speed.

Columbus, Aug. 27.—Miss Grace T. Tumbuson, aged 19, believed to be from Portsmouth, is dead and three of her companions are in a local hospital as a result of an automobile accident here this morning.

CANDIDATE IN DOUBT

Jackson, Aug. 27.—Returns to day from yesterday's primary failed to clear up doubt as to who the Democratic nominee for governor although both candidates, Lee Russell and G. W. Bryant, claim victory. The letter states that the pact was signed by Bourgeois with Bryant, which he now has less than that of his opponent.

LICKING LEADS A CLOSE RACE.

LICKING COUNTY	$4.37 PER CAPITA
WARREN COUNTY	4.36 PER CAPITA
MORROW COUNTY	3.23 PER CAPITA

These figures show the relative standing of the three counties that are leading in the closing days of the Victory Shaft race. Because of the difference in population, 40 cents in Warren county and 25 cents in Morrow county go as far as a dollar in Licking county in the W. S. S. contest.

While the Licking County War Work organization men are making a vigorous drive this week and are getting results, strenuous campaigns are on in Warren and Morrow counties and also in other counties that believe they have a chance to win. Only three days remain. As there will be a rush at the banks and postoffices the latter part of the week, better buy W. S. S. tomorrow. Having led the race all summer, with the exception of one week, will Licking county people relax their effort these last three days? Let's put into this drive all power possible and win for our county the Victory Shaft which carries with it national distinction.

WHITER THAN EVER, IS WHITE HOUSE AT NIGHT

Night view of White House while illuminated by powerful army searchlights recently.

Powerful army searchlights, similar to those used for detecting enemy airplanes in the war, were turned on the White House recently at night and threw the white mansion into bold relief. Every detail of the building could be seen, just as though it were daylight.

On receiving the warning Turkey, it appears immediately complained to Great Britain and France, saying she was threatened. The explanation of the American delegation to the peace conference that the warning was informal, however, apparently removed the objections to the American action based upon the idea that the United States was speaking for the conference.

PEACE DELEGATES OBJECT TO U. S. WARNING TO TURK

Admiral Bristol Told Officials That Massacres Must Cease.

CONFERENCE OFFICIALS WANT JOINT NOTE ON SUCH MATTERS

American Delegates Say Warning Was Not of Official Character.

Paris, Aug. 27.—An informal warning to Turkey that massacres of Armenians must cease, given recently by Rear Admiral Mark L. Bristol, commander of the United States navy forces in Turkey, caused something of a flurry in French official quarters and in the supreme council of the peace conference. It developed today.

In the council there was reported to have occurred sharp criticism of American interference in Turkey through missions and otherwise, despite the fact that the United States had shown no disposition to accept the mandate for the administration of any Turkish territory.

The impression prevailed that in this case the United States had acted alone in a formal communication to the Turkish government.

It was explained by the American delegation, however, that the warning was delivered informally by Admiral Bristol several days ago, that no formal note was sent but merely an informal statement, the United States alone not attempting to speak for the peace conference.

On receiving the warning Turkey, it appears immediately complained to Great Britain and France, saying she was threatened. CLUB CHEF DIES OF POISONING

Sixth Victim of Food Poisoning at Canton County Club Succumbs—Others Critically Ill.

Canton, Aug. 27.—Frank McAvoy, 65, chef at the Lakeside Country club died last night at a local hospital of food poisoning. McAvoy was a Cantonian to have died since 1914, having eaten food served at a dinner dance at the club Saturday night.

McAvoy's is the fifth death resulting from food poisoning. Col. C. C. Weybrecht, Mrs. Helen Sharer and John C. Sharer of Alliance and Robert Jennings, colored, of Canton, a waiter at the club, all died Monday.

Dr. John T. Phillips of Cleveland says it is his opinion that the deaths were due to toxic poisoning and that this could come only from meat. Dr. J. P. Dewitt and club officials are of the opinion that the poisoning was caused by olives, which were taken to the club by Mrs. Cahill, as only the guests at her table became ill.

Dr. Dewitt says the poisoning is like that which comes from drinking wood alcohol.

Alliance, Aug. 27.—Fred Morris, sales manager of the Morgan Engineering company, who was a guest at the club last night, died suddenly. He had been superintending a quadruped racing safe and well in New York City, according to a telegram received here this morning. His wife and officials of the company were alarmed over him as he was not well when he left here Sunday night. He was overjoyed.

Mrs. John C. Sharer, sixth victim of the poisoning died this morning at 10 o'clock at her home here.

Mrs. Sharer's husband died last night. Early this morning her condition seemed to indicate perceptible improvement but later she sank rapidly until paralysis crept over her, her physician said.

Military honors will be paid the dead officer and colors of the 140th

NOT ALL WEST POINT OFFICERS "CADDISH"

Not all West Point graduates in the regular army are "caddish," according to a statement issued this morning by Major C. W. Miller, respecting what he describes as a wrong impression gained by readers from the report of his talk before the Kwanza club at its Monday meeting. Major Miller declares that he cited exceptions in his talk, mentioning by name individuals with whom he served, who were democratic and broad minded. His statement follows:

"Some readers got the understanding that I said applied to all West Point officers and that all officers who received their training at the Point were caddish.

"If this impression exists I desire to correct the same, as I specially stated in the talk that while in my opinion the teachings at the school and the traditions of the Academy had a grave tendency to make the officers caddish, that did not apply to all and some were big enough and liberal minded enough as not to be affected by these traditional teachings."

"I specially stated that while in Base Section No. 7, I had served under two officers, graduates of West Point, naming them, who were both broad minded men with liberal and humane views, and were liked and respected by both officers and men.

"My criticism was against the institution and not against the individual.

"I stated that the rank and file of our army were men of good education, a great number being college graduates, who had been taught from childhood that all men were created equal; that under our system in the last war, in raising an army, we got at least the 'run of the mine,' and that the enlisted personnel was very well endowed with intelligence and moral qualifications.

"While it was necessary to have orders obeyed and have strict discipline, yet I do not believe this would be affected or destroyed by allowing the officers and men to trammel while off duty."

"I cited the French army custom to prove this contention. What I specially desire to correct however is that my criticism did not apply to all regular army officers."

Readers' Viewpoint

Classical Education.

Editor of The Advocate—In his able essay on "Academic Leadership," Paul Elmer More, for some years editor of The Nation, says: "I must say frankly that after dealing for a number of years with manuscripts prepared for publication by college professors of various faculties, I have been forced to the conclusion that science, in itself, is likely to leave the mind in a state of relative imbecility. It is not that the writing of men who got their early drill too exclusively, or even predominantly, in the sciences, lacks the graces of rhetoric; that would be comparatively a small matter—but such men in the majority of cases, even when treating subjects within their own field, show a singular inability to think clearly and consecutively, so soon as they are freed from the restraint of merely describing the process of an experiment. On the contrary, the manuscript of a classical scholar, despite the dry-rot of phlogiston, almost invariably gives signs of a habit of cold and unfeeling elaboration."

This is the deliberate opinion of a skilled editor, and he by no means stands alone amongst editors in his judgment. I, for one, am not ready to subscribe to the doctrine of a shifting election of studies, which is dependent upon an assumed interest that may be followed up by a desire to get rid of a momentary and faded interest. Life is not a series of pleasant choices; it is a continual struggle with "required" subjects. It is not so much what we like to do as it is what we have to do, that life offers. It is a fundamentally unsound psychology that would instill into the minds of our youth the thought—and the habit of thought—that they are expected to do only the work that interests them. The world does not ask "What do you like?" but "Can you do this?" I am aware of the ready retort that it does not inquire whether you write Latin; but it is continually inconsistent to know whether you can stick to a long job in spite of difficulties. Some of the modern schools look to me like an anthology of educational experts. There is really very little, apparently, in the proposed methods of our modernists that has not been tried already, but we wish their experiments to have a fair trial. Corrected by the results of the working out of their methods, we hope to see their plans suffer a complete reversal and that we will find them in a far different state of mind than they have appeared in in their propaganda against classical methods.

READERS' VIEW POINT

The Senate and the Treaty.

Editor, Advocate—To a plain American citizen, longing to live down to peace and prosperity and be rid forever of war, the high cost of living and sensational oratory, there come every day some mighty perplexing thoughts.

If the nations we are married to a field application of the Monroe doctrine, why is the party which did not go to a swing vote and set off to undermine the Panama Canal now involving the great Dominican Republic to save it from undue contamination to other old world boozin'? And why did the publican administration, commercial weaklings, hasten to yield to German schemes in regard of protecting the little black sheep?

If the Republics take on in much in preparation, and we will meet the long period when no control of the government they did not practice, why did the first bunch of representatives seek to reduce imports, and have appropriations to a piddling fraction of our real needs?

If we must fight our own battles, then why not let a Republic on our borders, which is weak, important, and defeated Spain, shoulder the same war with us, why will it not be a better trick for Woodrow Wilson to let it be a sympathetic member of a much greater group?

Can we, the one Senator Lodge, who raised his voice in 1917 for an international tribunal, force our land and sea strong enough to overcome the force of any predatory state, when now raising the self-same voice against Article X of the Covenant of the League of Nations? What a contrast to his emotional appeals to mothers, sisters and sweethearts, this being telling them to consider well how the League might send our young, strong, and fit to do battle, some here or other. As for the fear of helping weak and backward peoples, we act once more. What of the Philippines? What has become of Senator Lodge's fine friends, the Turks, his son, now for the wrongs of Armenia? Who shall we leave the Armenians a home race? To Spain or to the Filipinos? At best, period of protection they ask of us till the day stand on their own feet.

On the one hand we are led to beleve that the league will interfere with domestic affairs, down to firing the school teachers in Idaho, running "Ye New England town meeting," are the other. Taft was hissed and Wilson threatened for leaving the Irish question to England and Ireland for settlement.

191 Senator Sherman just happens to think out, or was his assumed fear of public control of the league his trump card? It could not be more stanchly Protestant than I, nor believe more firmly in the separation of church and state. In one of the finest things about the peace treaty is its guarantee of religious as well as civil liberty. In fact, that is one of the goals for which Czechoslovakia fought. We have suffered no harm from association with Catholic countries in the Pan-American Union, the Hague conference, our connections with the allies in winning the late war. Why, fear a kindly agreement between nations to prevent future wars, because all members of such a union are not of the same creed?

If the Republican party is the "Saxon pure" war-party whose control of the government was needed to bring the war to a successful conclusion and insure a strong peace, why did they elect Norris of Nebraska and restore LaFollette by a large Republican majority, to full fellowship in the Senate, where he at once proceeded to dictate on the beauties of Bolshevikism, even as he formerly lauded the Germans? I do not think Henry Ford would have shone in the senate, but probably, if anything, Ford of the peace ship would have any worse effect as a signer of the treaty than LaFollette, Gramma, Normal, and others of the "twitful men" now holding important places in the senate? There are men with bad war-records who hold high positions in the homes as well. It is all very hard for an omniscient mind to grasp.

Claiming party discipline, the Republicans could not control the shameful toll-blister of last winter. Professing the deepest anxiety for their country's welfare, fear of anarchy and alien enemies; love of the soldier and sailor; interest in education and other vital American problems they let go over to the next session the railroad bill; far-reaching educational measures; bills for enforcing prohibition; for restricting immigration; for ridding our country of anarchy and dangerous enemies; and for reclaiming American land by granting homesteads to our country's defenders.

Some of these measures are even yet untouched, while Republican leaders have wasted weeks and months, denouncing the peace treaty and delaying the peace they have professed to have.

On the one hand, the administration is blamed for not sending a strong force to Russia, on the other, Senator Johnson and the Michiganders have yelled to high heaven because we sent any one there.

Secretary Baker's best may be worse than his critics' worst. Trust a magazine warrior to know just how a war should be run and the policies of nations determined. But, honestly, do you suppose Secretary Baker is to blame for everything from the bad roads of the Argonne and the mud of Frest to the high cost of living? He has actually been seriously blamed for the last by a Republican weekly. The same paper accused him of deliberately making military service hateful. Why would he do this when he is asking an army of 500,000 by voluntary enlistment?

One week Will H. Hays, nobly and firmly refuses to make the league a tourism issue. Very soon thereafter, with the aid of the Republican party leaders proceeds to revise and rewrite the covenant to make the same the "issue" for the 1920 elections. Of all the mistakes of the Wilson administration, it seems the greatest was the failure to send Will H. Hays to the Paris conference.

MINISTER TO CHINA QUIT.

Washington, Aug. 27.—Dr. Paul S. Reischel, American minister to China, has resigned. His resignation is now in the hands of President Wilson, but it was denied that he had presented it "suddenly" as reported in Japanese dispatches to Honolulu.

Facts About Chameleon.

A general belief is that the chameleon changes its color in accordance with its surroundings. Some experiments throw doubt on this view. The color changes seem to be regulated by light, temperature, excitement, etc. Thus one placed in sunlight so that only one side was exposed to the rays of the sun became dark brown on this side and pale brown mottled with green on the other. Placed in a dark box and kept at a temperature of 730 degrees Fahrenheit, another emerged a brilliant green. Another specimen in a dark box at 500 degrees Fahrenheit assumed a uniform salty-gray color.

Potash-Producing Weed.

It is believed that the ash of bracken contains 40 to 50 per cent of soluble potash. In parts of Australia, where the weed grows abundantly, it has been found that a yield of 400 pounds of potash can be obtained per acre. The potassium occurs chiefly as sulphate and chloride.

If the nations we are married to a field application of the Monroe doctrine, why is the party which did not go to a swing vote and set off to undermine the Panama Canal now involving the great Dominican Republic to save it from undue contamination to other old world boozin'?

And why did the publican administration, commercial weaklings, hasten to yield to German schemes in regard of protecting the little black sheep?

"Love at first sound," will supplement the former saying, "love at first sight" according to the experience of Jack Pickford's latest picture "By Proxy." Jack Pickford's latest picture which is seen at the Auditorium theatre tonight last time.

Pickford plays the part of Robin in love with Dorothy Mason whose voice he heard while driving his sporty roadster down a fashionable avenue. The love bug hits Jack so hard he turns burglar to assist in winning the girl. "Outing Chester." Travologue is also shown.

The Unpardonable Sin. Manager Fenberg believes that in announcing for a third day showing commencing tomorrow he has in "The Unpardonable Sin" something to give a fitting climax to his most wonderful list of feature pictures that has ever been offered during a summer season in Newark Blanche Sweet is the star and she is supported by the following well known players: Edwin Stevens, Mary Alden, Wesley Barry, Bobby Connolly and Bull Montana. Montana will be remembered by many, as he has wrestled with Paul Bowser at the Auditorium several times. In this he has a role "The Brute" that will make his friends in Newark gasp and sit up and take notice.

Miss Sweet as Alice Parrot has a role that shows her as a finished actress. The story of "The Unpardonable Sin" is as follows:

The Parrots—father, mother and two charming daughters—live in Southern California. At the time the action begins, Stephen Parrot, the father, is in the Far North pursuing his avocation as an explorer. Mrs. Parrot has hurried overseas to Belgium to bring back one daughter who had been placed in a convent there. Dimmy Parrot (the lead in the picture, played by Blanche Sweet, who also appears as the other sister in several parts of the production) is alone in the beautiful Parrot home. She receives a letter from her loved ones abroad—a letter that almost sends her reason tottering from its throne—a letter that tells her that invading soldiers have committed against both her mother and her sister "the unpardonable sin."

The letter has been one last not or explanation—and a plea that mother and sister be forgotten, a cry that their disgrace be shielded from the world.

With the letter carefully hidden in a wallet, Dimmy, half crazed with grief and not figuring the difficulties of the task she has set for herself, sets out to find her loved ones.

Her train is delayed just outside a little town in the Middle West. A chance traveling acquaintance offers aid and later as Dimmy and her acquaintance are walking through a shaded in the little village just at dusk, the acquaintance smitten by Dimmy's beauty, attempts to force his attentions upon her. Dimmy collapses; her reason flees. Only a zephyr of the breath of life remains. Weeks later she recovers her strength, both mental and physical, to find that she has been nursed in the home of the Wards.

Nell Windsor, an undergraduate at the college in the little town, has learned to love Dimmy. She tells him her story—and torn between the fear of all men and the thought that she may waver from her path of honest duty, leaves the home without announcement to continue on her journey.

Soon after, young Windsor answers his government's call to serve with Hoover's Belgian Relief Commission in the devastated country. He arrives in Washington to secure his passport and discovers Dimmy, who has been in the capitol city for some time, unable to continue her journey for the reason that the government has discontinued the issuance of passports to "unmarried" women Nell and Dimmy effect a marriage of convenience. Dimmy's passport being securable in no other way.

Upon their arrival in Belgium, Nell, husband in name only, finds it possible to do much to aid Dimmy in her search for her people. Together they travel the devastated regions, even penetrating the enemy country—for in those days the United States had not entered the war.

A veritable pawn of fate, it is Dimmy's misfortune to encounter the very beast who had ravished her sister. When he sees the fresh young girl from California, Colonel Klemm mistakes her for the sister whom he has shamefully treated in Belgium. He is mystified—and his passion still leads him. Because he thinks Dimmy a spy against his government and because he wishes to possess her again, as he thinks, Klemm hounds Dimmy and Nell everywhere they go.

Klemm is outwitted. Dimmy's mother and sister are found, but not before a second horror in her frail young life has snapped the thread that tied the little sister to Earth and a bitter disappearance.

Dimmy, her mother, Nell and an interesting little group of refugees, who have been made members of the party are making a mad rush for the Holland border when a bullet sends Mrs. Parrot close to the brink of death. When she recovers she takes back to her husband in the States only the story of her terrible experience.

Dimmy and Nell find that their "marriage of convenience" must be re-enacted as a "marriage of necessity"—necessary because he has come to desire it.

ALHAMBRA
"The Rose of the West" Mr. Fenberg's Playhouse "The Alhambra" has a clever photoplay in "The Rose of the West" in which Madeline Traverse is the star. The photoplay is seen two days beginning today and the story "Rose of the West" is a vivid photogram of the northern wilds. Rose and Pierre Labelle, French Canadians, and their daughter, Angela, live in a cabin in the Lost River country, far from civilization. When the story opens Pierre, a brutal and neglectful husband, has been absent two years, and his wife fears his return. Lieutenant Colonel Knight, head of the Royal Northwest mounted police, in love with Rose, comes to the cabin and, believing the husband dead, urges her to marry him. She asks him to wait until spring. As Knight is about to go to Jules, a half-breed guide, appears with the report that Pierre had been killed in an avalanche.

In the spring Knight returns for Rose and her daughter. As they prepare to depart the husband, Pierre, arrives and orders Knight from the house. Pierre is weak and delirious and raves of gold he has discovered during his long absence.

When Pierre is stronger he hurries to see Beaupre, owner of the gold-bearing land. Beaupre, a married man refuses to sell the land to Pierre until Pierre promises to give him, in addition, his pretty daughter Angela.

Later Beaupre comes to the cabin to complete the bargain. Rose, sensing trouble, orders him away. One day however, when Rose is absent, Pierre informs her that Beaupre will take her to Rose. When Rose returns and misses her daughter she has a terrific battle with her husband and thralls Beaupre and Angela. She rescues her daughter and in a fierce fight with Beaupre, kills him.

Knight, head of the police, is told that Rose killed Beaupre. She confesses to him and though he loves her he is about to do his duty and arrest her.

when Jules the guide, after a fight in which he kills Pierre, takes on him self responsibility for Beaupre's death then dies of his wounds. Rose then (Continued on Page 8, Col. 3)

JUSTIFICATION FOR PRICES.

Some dealers who criticised on the charge of profiteering, justify their prices on the ground that they "can get it." Apparently they feel it is fair for them to ask any price that the public is willing to pay.

As a correspondent wrote in an exchange, the man who owned a good fire engine could get almost any price for the use of his machine if it was needed at a fire. But that would not prove that a high charge was fair.

The real justification for a price is what it cost to produce and distribute an article, including a moderate return to the producer and distributor.

A great many of the prices now being charged go far beyond this standard of comparison. They include a speculative profit. The people are getting tired of enriching speculators.

The harvesting of the tomatoes is viewed with great joy by the younger element, as they constitute the most perfect morsel yet created and are perfectly grand for target practice on a newly painted shed.

The folks who kick on high cost of travelling might take their next vacation near Newark where the scenery is considered very beautiful by people who live a thousand miles away.

The people who find fault with high prices at the hotels are often the same ones who kick if they have to wait a minute without some servant jumping to wait on them.

At about the same time that the hotels went up to five and ten dollars a day, a lot of automobile parties appeared on the road with tents and complete camping outfit.

The fact that the boy campers can build a fire without matches does not prove that after they got back they can build one in the kitchen stove for mother.

Eggs to the number of 16,569,330 seized by the government at St. Louis. A suitable reception for the theatrical companies will take more than that.

According to the diet specialis you will be all right if you don't eat any starchy foods and also let non-starchy foods severely alone.

And great pains are being taken to teach the girl campers how to tie knots but they don't need any added instruction on how to knot.

It is not expected that the kids will all be present the first day of school, as it might give the teacher an idea she was going to run things.

The soldiers and war workers have all been decorated, but in this country the principal means of decoration disappeared July 1.

The mothers are getting ready for school clothes for the babies which won't be right until thoroughly rided in the dirt.

Sixty million gallon of whisky is reported in storage and no difficulty in finding watchmen to guard it reported.

Lots of girls take cooking lessons this fall and much time will be given to learning how to make wedding cake.

"COMPEL" IS A HARD WORD.

(Rochester Times Union) Samuel Gompers, quoted in a United Press dispatch from Paris in an interview on the railroad situation surprises us with a hard word. Mr. Gompers has grown greatly in public esteem on account of his firm and patriotic stand for justice and fair play during the war. All the more reason for astonishment when he says:

American railway workers intend not only to COMPEL the government to take over the railways but will demand, as the next logical step, that labor shall be granted a permanent equal voice in railway administration.

Now we all know that the railroads will never again be handled in exactly the same way as they were before the war. We know that they must and will turn to give the greatest good to the greatest number. We do not know yet what plan or system of management will prove most workable.

Most of us feel that the interests of hundred million people are of greater importance than the interests of either railroad owners or workers. For either of these two groups to endeavor to secure some permanent advantage at the cost of permanent disadvantage to the body of the nation would be wrong and unfair.

One thing seems certain; railroad operation in future will never yield large profits. Indeed, it appears that it will require a desperate struggle to make ends meet. A loose system of operation would mean rising costs, with resulting deficits to be met by increasing freight rates and passenger fares, or by heavy taxation. Government ownership and operation, if befeleved by political meddling and muddling would prove expensive and disappointing.

Mr. Gompers, Mr. Stone, Mr. Garrison, and all the men under them are perfectly free to use all their powers of persuasion and enlightenment in seeking to show the rest of us the merits of their plan. The rest of us ought to consider their proposal fairly and with open mind. Perhaps there is merit in the Plumbe plan and if there is, we ought to see and recognize it.

But, gentlemen, please do not say that you are going to compel congress to do your bidding.

SHANTUNG AND POLAND.

(Cleveland Plain Dealer.)

Consider the people of Shantung. They must be full of woe. Our Republican senators weep for them, and arise in stormy determination to rescue them. What though the world goes to smash, the people of Shantung shall not suffer this bitter wrong of being comfortably and sanely guided by the Japanese during a few brief years of reconstruction. To be sure, no one has heard from the people of Shantung. There is no indication that they are at all dissatisfied. They have plenty to eat. They are more comfortable than most Chinese. But they must, they shall be saved! Henry Cabot Lodge has sworn it, and rallied about the learned gentleman from Massachusetts are the other magnanimous Americans who are convinced that America's welfare and the world's safety must be rated as considerations secondary to the saving of Shantung from the mikado's wicked grasp.

The world's peace treaty must be rewritten so that this resounding business of rescuing Shantung may be made a part of it. What matters it if the treaty is thereby quite nullified and the world's peace makers utterly destroyed? What matters it if the appalling task must be done all over again while the world waits in agony?

Shantung must be Japanese—or there shall be no peace. Let millions starve. Let bohemianism ride rampant. Let joyous Germanism get nicely on its ewe-like wobbly feet.

Meanwhile the suffering in central and southeastern Europe is terrible beyond description, and is growing ever more intense. Men, women and children are naked and famished. They are dying in bitter agony and neglect. The detailed reports from Poland alone are sufficient to overcome the comfortable people of the United States' utter shame. Poland, the brave buffer state that was to be democracy's strong barrier, is perishing while our representative statesmen shout for Shantung. In Poland no food, no clothing, no medicine, no hope—but Shantung must be free. Bolshevikism's diabolical grip is even in the eyes of the Polish people, as it is in the eyes of Roumanians and Czecho-Slovaks and Lithuanians and other gallant peoples of central Europe who are making their heroic fight to maintain the sanity and cleanliness of democracy. In vain do these peoples look for the coming of peace to begin the work of upbuilding. Instead of the encouragement they need and demand they see Germany ever more insolent. They see von der Goltz arrogantly refusing to loose his strangled grasp of the Balkan provinces. They see Lenin growing ever more confident. They see, instead of united effort and intelligent co-operation, a slow process of disintegration of the democratic alliance that won the war and made the world safe for democracy. And seeking a cause they look to distant America; they find a little group of players at the game of politics who have sworn by the great horn spoon that Shantung shall be freed.

Which appeals more strongly to the American sense of wrong? Where does America believe the greatest need for humanitarian effort now lies? Is it Shantung, where well-fed Chinese are suffering the theoretical and temporary injustice of Japanese domination? Or is it Poland, where babies are dying like poisoned mice in a cellar where famine and disease threaten the extermination of one of the world's most long-suffering races, where delay means the collapse of the democracy's only barrier between the twin monsters of Prussianism and bolshevism?

THINK IT OVER FIRST.

(Buffalo Courier) So far second thought on the imminent question would seem to indicate that we can best serve for the restriction of new debts by our shores. The bill introduced by Ober Johnson of the House Banking Committee, which would bar foreign creditors those who would be regarded as visitors rather than productive citizens from the country, has passed the Senate, so to speak, more on the 100th floor of the Pacific Stock Exchange than on those of the 10th.

Where the question comes for decision of when stock will be with drawl, first papers in order to execute a valid and proper contract. There are no reasons why we must put the law against the will of these bonds, and such who have turned out of Europe in the past three or four years, who feel it with short and uncertain returns to their homelands, it might be advisable to give some thought to the effect this or similar law may have on our to.

BUCKEYE BAND GIVES A CONCERT ON SQUARE TONIGHT

The Buckeye band members who are intensely interested in having Licking county win the Victory shaft have voted to give a concert in the court house park, west side, at 7:30 o'clock this evening. Rev. Geo. B. Schmidt will give a short address. Everybody is invited to attend the free concert this evening. The band has generously tendered its services to help put Old Licking county over the top.

It is a neck-and-neck race for the Victory shaft. Licking leads with a per capita rate of W. S. S. since June 1 of $4.37. Warren is second with $4.36, and Morrow third, $3.23. The organizations in these three counties and in a half dozen others that believe they still have a chance to win, are hard at work. The race ends Saturday night of this week. As the sales will be heavy Friday and Saturday better buy tomorrow. Don't put it off, buy now and help to make your county win.

Among the recent limit buyers of W. S. S. are Ray Walters, Mrs. George Reese, George A. Reese, T. E. Can and W. B. Brooks reported by Union town ship Chairman J. W. Bartholow of Hebron. Mr. Bartholow had a meeting of his organization at Hebron, Monday evening, and is hard at work this week. And he is getting results.

President W. W. Davis sent a strong letter to members of the Newark Chamber of Commerce today urging them to support the W. S. S. Victory shaft drive to the limit.

Postmaster Brown of Pataskala, sold the limit to Elmer G. Whitehead, R. D. Pataskala, yesterday.

The Licking County War Work organization will meet at 7:30 o'clock in Masonic temple late Friday night, submit their W. S. S. sales report and receive discharge certificates. These men are doing fine work this week and are all pulling to win the Victory shaft.

SURCHARGE ON FIRE INSURANCE REMOVED

Fire insurance is doing its share in helping reduce the high cost of living. On September 1 the temporary war surcharge of 10 percent, imposed after the outbreak of hostilities to meet the increased expenses and taxes due to war conditions, will be removed throughout the country. The higher costs which justified the surcharge have not yet been reduced and in fact are higher than ever but the loss ratio has been normal.

The companies hope that they will receive the cooperation of the public in the reduction of the preventable fire waste, since if the loss ratio should increase, with expenses still mounting, some readjustment of rates would become necessary.

Our Boys and Girls

Presumably, at the advent of the first new baby, the parent's relatives are in available assistance, whether they live in the home or merely come to visit. In plain, cold facts, they are often the greatest hindrance a young mother has to contend with in the proper adjustment of her home to the new baby.

There is apt to be conflict of opinion and practice between the daughter, or daughter-in-law, and the woman whose family had reached maturity. The methods of the latter appear to be fully justified by results. The daughter has no specific warrant for the stand she endeavors to take, except the printed book of rules of the good advice of the modern doctor and nurse that have been inscribed upon her.

She has to watch herself, trying each step hopped up only in the conviction that science and hospital regime advocates the newer way. If she is strong in the convictions that she is right, she should keep on in spite of the well-meaning advice of her friends and relatives.

EVERY MEMBER OF MY FAMILY TAKES THE NEW REMEDY

Columbus Contractor Got so Much Good From Dreco, Puts the Others to Talking It Also.

Relieved His Stomach Trouble, Backache, Biliousness and Indigestion.

Here is a strong endorsement given to Dreco, the new herbal remedy, by a substantial citizen of Columbus, O. He has lived in that city for the past six years and is the proud father of two children. He says:

"The case I read about in the papers seemed to fit mine exactly, so I got a bottle of Dreco. I stayed bilious all the time and gastritis attacked me after each meal. I got a burning sensation in my stomach. My kidneys seemed to be deranged, and I had to get up several times during the night; my back was weak and often ached."

"I've finished my first bottle, and now I want some more, for I want every member of my family to take Dreco. It has done me worlds of good, and I strongly recommend it."

Persons suffering from constipation, weak kidneys, sluggish liver, poor digestion, or stomach trouble of any kind, are advised to give Dreco, the great root and herb remedy, a trial. It overcomes gastritis, indigestion, and dyspepsia, aiding the stomach to carry its load.有助于 a sluggish liver to healthy action; gives strength to weakened, deranged kidneys; relieves constipation; induces sound, refreshing sleep, and increases the appetite, thereby giving renewed strength and vigor, to the vital organs.

AN ENDLESS CHAIN.

Here is the endless chain of recommendation for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. There is hardly a town or village in the United States from which women have not written ten letters telling of health restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. If you are suffering from some female trouble, ask your neighbor if she has ever used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. In many cases you will find that she has regained health by its use and will recommend it to you.

Daughter of Mine."

"Daughter of Mine," the new Goldwyn Picture in which Madge Kennedy stars at the Alhambra Theatre, beginning Friday, is said to be novel from every angle. Written by Hugo Ballin, Goldwyn's art director, it tells an original story in which every character plays a dual role.

Briefly, "Daughter of Mine" is the story of little Rosie Mendelsohn, daughter of the tenements, and Papa Mendelsohn, an orthodox Jew, who does not approve of Rosie's poet-sweetheart because he is too modern—because he uses a typewriter. After much persuasion, he induces Rosie to send George away, and Rosie, because filial love is uppermost in her nature, tries to forget.

She becomes stenographer to Rayberg, publisher, who is partly in love with her, and consents to listen to a wonderful story, the Manuscript of which Dosie declares she found in the subway. In reality, she has typed from memory all she can remember of George's great romantic novel. Her version is absurd—just the sort of thing a sentimental girl would write. As she tells the story, Rosie becomes the heroine, Lady Diantha, and all the other characters become the people she knows best—Papa Mendelsohn, Rayberg himself, and George. It is all part of a clever scheme which results in an unexpected climax and brings George back to Rosie.

Voda-Vil.

Do you enjoy good vaudeville? Then do not miss Spanuth's Original "Voda-Vil" a screen novelty of the age, now showing at the Alhambra together with Madeline Traverse in "The Rose of the West." All Star headliners are seen on the screen. You cannot afford to miss this once-reel features, shown each week at The Alhambra Theatre.

PARAMOUNT-ARTCRAFT WEEK.

Mr. Fenberg is preparing for a big week at both his Alhambra and Auditorium theatres next week. This is styled Paramount-Artcraft week for in all the best Photoplay Theatres throughout these United States the week commencing Sunday, August 31st, is Paramount-Artcraft week. Some of the pictures to be seen next week include "The Lie," "Green Eyes," "We Can't Have Everything," "Mile a Minute Kendall," "House of Silence," "Playing the Game," "Romance of Happy Valley," "Battling Jane" and others. Charlie Chaplin in "Sunnyside" is also to be shown.

How To Heal Sore, Bleeding Gums Tighten Loose Teeth

BEFORE THEY FALL OUT, DENTISTS HOME PRESCRIPTION WORKING LIKE MAGIC

If your teeth are loosening or if your gums are receding and are sore, tender or inflamed, if they bleed when you brush your teeth, are spongy, flabby or colorless or if they discharge pus or develop boils it is a warning of dangerous Pyorrhoea or Rages disease of the gums and prompt and careful treatment is necessary if you want to save your teeth from falling out.

A prominent New York State dentist has discovered a new prescription—Eighty-four for promptly correcting these troubles and it surely seems to work like magic. A few days use and teeth tighten the gums grow sound and healthy and the bleeding, poisons and discharge soon stops. An ounce jar of Eighty-four will last for weeks and costs little at T. J. Evans' or any good drug store and all these dental drugstores will refund the full purchase price if, for any reason, it fails to bring relief. No one really wants false teeth. So if you have any of the above symptoms you should by all means take this treatment a trial.

of Cora, a Spanish adventuress who is cold, calculating and relentless. She considers men merely as playthings to be broken and then cast aside. Supporting the star in this production is a notable cast including Irving Cummings who appears as Miss Gordon's leading man, Eric Mayne, Frank Farthing and others.

GRAND Today.

The final run of "A Wild Goose Chase" featuring Hazel Daly will be at the Grand this evening, together with a Christie comedy "A Cheerful Liar," featuring Dorothy DeVore and Jay Belasco. Both of these pictures are unusually pleasing.

Harold Lockwood.

The long looked for picture "Pals First" featuring Harold Lockwood, Vivian Rich and James Lackeye will arrive at the Grand theatre tomorrow afternoon, and will be shown until Friday afternoon inclusive. To attempt to describe this picture would be a difficult task. It is so filled with human interest and emotion that one would hardly know which angle of the picture to talk about first.

The story starts in San Francisco, and ends in the mountains of Tennessee, to which place, Mr. Lockwood and Mr. Lackeye went in their weary way back home after a series of thrilling experiences. The producing company Metro, considers their picture the greatest the company has ever produced, and those who have seen it say likewise. It will be here only two days tomorrow and Friday. In addition Billy West is appearing as an added feature in "Ship Ahoy."
